

Bytes Datacentre Advisory and Optimisation Service

Get a holistic view of your existing estate and a suggested roadmap for your required modern datacentre needs by a vendor agnostic consultant.

With ever-expanding platform offerings, it's important to ensure you evaluate where best to put your workloads. When you add urgent capacity needs, containerisation, application delivery and automation into the mix, and begin considering the multitude of platform offerings, working out your strategy can get complex.

Whether you are just starting to assess your cloud migration, have a plan already established, need to ease the management of multiple platforms, are preparing for a hardware refresh or datacentre integration project or you're considering containerisation – let our consultants guide you on the many options for your modern datacentre!

We're offering a FREE Datacentre Advisory Service to help give you confidence that your strategy is future proofed.

We'll work with you to understand your current environment and then design and roadmap the ideal modern datacentre for you. We will help you identify which workloads are within scope for migration, to be in a position to consider if those workloads are cloud or container native.

With our expert advice, you can make confident, well informed decisions. You'll discover which platforms will best suit your business needs, operationally and commercially.

We'll explore the capabilities, benefits and limitations of a modernised Datacentre, including:

Infrastructure
Modernisation and consolidation

Software Defined Networking

Platforms
Hybrid Cloud and Containerisation

Workloads & Applications
Innovation and automation

Management
Hybrid cloud cost management

We want to ensure you maximise your existing investments and are able to respond to the increasing demands of your business. By looking at these areas, we will identify possible risk areas and suggest commercially advantageous efficiencies accordingly.

The result and output of this session will give you a tailored solution recommendation report that details your modern datacentre strategy and vendor offerings – this can be used to build your business case and drive the evolution of your datacentre.
